P3 Awards Names Carol Pennycook the Leading Woman in Infrastructure

Last night at the Edison Ballroom in New York City, Carol Pennycook was honoured with P3's Leading Woman in Infrastructure award. This is a strong reflection of the dedication with which Carol serves her clients, as well as her own industry-shaping experience.

Over her 40-year career, Carol has made outstanding contributions to the growth and evolution of the North American P3 market. As a leading lawyer, board member, formal/informal mentor and thought leader, she has been involved in some of the most significant North American P3 projects and pioneered many Canadian "firsts."

Carol has dedicated a significant portion of her career to advance the use, understanding and reputation of P3s in Canada. Clients comment that "she has a full 360-degree understanding of P3 projects" and "she is fantastic to work with and great at finding solutions to problems."
