Harman advises clients on their most complex matters related to wills, estates and trusts.

Harman works with clients on a broad range of personal planning matters, focusing on succession and estate planning. He also assists individuals and trust companies with all aspects of designing and administering trusts; interprets wills; and advises on executor's duties and beneficiaries' rights.

Harman's clients also benefit from his expertise in cross-border and multi-jurisdictional estate matters as well as his ability to engage local counsel to ensure legal processes and requirements are satisfied in relevant jurisdictions.

Before joining Davies, Harman practised in the areas of estate planning, estate administration, wills and trusts at a Western Canadian law firm.
